Award Winning Artist

Gambino mmc

Gambino mmc has been rapping since 1999, he started his career as a street team member of "MAX A Million Records" in Orlando, FL until C.E.O. Will Rivera was murdered & the label was forced to shut down. The local scene came up in the likes of Dawgman Ent. consisting of Dj Nasty & Dj Prostyle. Both inspired by classic south musicians like Bum B Pimp, C 8ball, MJG & Twista Midwest. Gambino moved to Florida at a young age and created his craft around his experiences & life from the streets of Orlando. Gambino's first project was the 3 vol. 551 mixtapes. He represented the Goldenrod 551 project name due to living on 551 Intertstate for 20 years and it was his way of paying homage back to his home streets; giving his people something to relate to. After the release of the first in the 551 volumes "551 Goldenrod" Gambino mmc teamed up with the now C.E.O. of #NoSellOut Records Chad Cobra. 551 vol.2 was already complete but hadn't been released yet, the 2 released & promoted the mixtape together. Then the 551 vol.3 came out which they did the same. The idea of making their own label & coming up together was a collaboration of all #NoSellOut Records artists. Everyone had a hand in it. Gambino was the very first. They created #NoSellOut Records, began reppin & building the brand. The first #NoSellOut release from Gambino mmc was "Death To The Trap" Vol.1 released 5-13-17, followed by Death To The Trap Vol.2 released 11-18-17. Stay tuned for Vol.3....

While growing up in the small town of Dawson, Georgia, these two brothers have always been known for rapping about their life and struggle through their music. JC & OG Killah have come a long way from rapping on karaoke machines to professional studios. They started rapping in the late 90s and have been influenced by the legendary rap group Bone Thugs-N-Harmony.

Their goals were to be the best artists they can be and make music with their favorite rappers, Bone Thugs. These brothers were determined to achieve their goals, which led them to their dream. By networking, they came across a few major artists who put them on a level to become the tremendously unique artists they are now. With a country sound and unique flow, these two brothers are making it happen.

They appeared on "The Battle Of Armageddon" bonus disc, which includes CEO AC Killer from CNO records and Bizzy Bone from Bone Thugs N Harmony. They are dropping a double disc album which features HC Tha CHEMIST from Harmony House ENT, Layzie Bone from Bone Thugs N Harmony and more. The first single from the "New Money Blue Money" album shocked a lot of people when it was released, which included a video featuring AC Killer.

BlackIce 45 Music Group LLC was the first label to put them on a platform to start networking to gain maximum exposure and brand awareness. Currently, the supergroup is releasing music and operating under their own label, Concrete Music Entertainment. JC Killah and OG Killah, which real names are Jarvis Cody and Jermaine Cody career are about to be significant as they thought or maybe even more prominent. While the two brothers continue to take the independent route, they're continuing to grind while making positive moves and decisions and ensuring their career and business take off.
